

Vitalink Specification

Scope

The information contained in this document, together with all other technical information that is offered, should enable a software developer or the IT department of an organisation to achieve integration with the Vitalink solution. Here it is explained how this documentation can be used.

Overview

